FROM THE HEAD'S SPEECHES...

Here are highlights from speeches made by Headmaster Robert Ross, at School Closing, June 19th, 1993...

About six weeks ago I attended a development conference in Vancouver. There were about sixty Directors of Development and Heads representing most of the CAIS schools. One of the speakers began the session by asking us to introduce ourselves and to identify our own personal hero or heroine.

For the next half hour or so, everybody in the room went through the exercise of introducing themselves, of saying what school they represented, and of identifying their particular heroes and heroines. They mentioned fundraisers, board members, teachers, administrators, benefactors and so on. Finally, it was our turn. It was incredibly coincidental that both Mr. Evans and I identified ours as students – mine, a second form heroine, and his, a seventh form hero. Each of us, obviously, had our own particular reasons for our choices. However, I found it telling that, out of a total of sixty representatives from independent schools across this country, not one single other person identified students as heroes and heroines. I suppose we can all draw our own conclusions from that particular exercise, but let me share mine with you. I believe that many of us who work and live with you – our students – have been privileged and rewarded by the energy, ingenuity and enthusiasm you create each day as you move from one challenge to the next. Your responses to these challenges provide BCS with its own unique brand of excellence....

When you think of excellence, what image comes to your mind?

The Bradley clan: Tim (BCS '67), Bev (Bryant) (KHC '65), Gillett (BCS '94), Cole (BCS '92) and grandmother, Mrs. Bryant from Magog.

The chances are that your image of excellence has nothing to do with school. When we mention educational excellence, we tend to think of standards and achievement, of test scores, of getting into the right universities, of doing homework, of being a good citizen, and of all the rest of it – which for the average person sounds pretty dull, and for the average teenager sounds downright boring. I certainly don't mean to imply that any of those things is unimportant; achieving and meeting goals is hard work. Excellence is impossible without that kind of groundwork, and it is the stuff of daily life for most of us. But we are making a serious mistake if we equate this with excellence....

Form VI grad and future prefect, Catherine de Sainte Marie, with father François (BCS '65) and mother Nicole.

1993 Graduation: the grads with their diplomas.

Céline Michel with her brother Gaetan (BCS '92) and their parents.

True excellence is anything but dull – it is exceeding goals; it is jumping right out of yourselves; it is living on the farthest limits of your imagination.

Excellence is the surge of confidence that comes when you know you have gone beyond what you thought you were capable of. I am sure the 180 chapel readers experienced that this year; the twenty-five rock climbers certainly understood that; those forty students who learned to speak two different languages must have felt that; I have no doubt that the ninety students who contributed to this year's award-winning magazine Inscape felt that they went beyond their capabilities as did the sixteen students who skated for the first time; the twenty who organized our Round Square Conference undoubtedly felt extremely proud of their accomplishments, and the thirteen students on exchange and five students on Round Square work projects have experienced an accomplishment beyond their own expectations....

I would submit to all the parents in the audience today that all of us have to be reminded how full, rich and complex school life really is, even when your child, in answer to your question about what happened at school, invariably mumbles, "Nothing".

Here are highlights from a speech made by Robert Ross at the New Parents' Meeting on September 7th, 1993....

How would one characterize the atmosphere at BCS? I think first of the caring, humane environment fostered by a faculty whose commitment to its students far exceeds the limits of the classroom.

It's okay to compete – we relish it, in fact. But it is far more important to learn from each other, to sustain one another when things get tough, and to value our differences in background and perspective. A caring school is a place where each individual is of worth, and we don't take each other for granted....

Good-byes all around.

A caring school is a safe school, and a safe school is a place where it is all right to be by yourself, and yet, you know there are good places to be with others. It is a place where it is okay to be different....

At BCS we encourage risk taking; that teaches students to use failure as an experience for growth rather than a message never to try again....

BCS is an honest school where trust and integrity are big words. An honest school is one where students have to work hard, do homework every night, and meet high expectations every day. An honest school is a place where the students and teachers and staff do an honest day's work, and such hard work is respected and valued.

I believe the total curriculum at BCS teaches our students

WELCOME TO THE LAND OF OZ!

Carnival '93 – a great success

Thirty years ago, in February, 1963, Form V decided that it would assert itself by producing a winter carnival for the rest of the school. In that year, the carnival consisted of a ski day, a movie and a snow sculpture competition.

3 pm, February 19th: Carnival Committee '93 is wound up and ready to go!

Clockwise from the left: Natanya Nerenberg, Lucy Grey-Donald, Henry Cho, John Redpath, Marktin Su, Dominic Brown, Virginia Hamelin, Liz Drake, Stephanie Jessop, Emily Marosi, Dina Nelson, Mathieu Leblanc, André Iannuzzi with Jeff Bray at a healthy distance!

Nowadays, the carnival lasts from the end of school on Friday until after the ski day on Monday. There are inter-house competitions, starting with the "Great Race" and moving on to indoor rugby, basketball, ice hockey, ball hockey, snow football and the ever popular tug-of-war. On the marginally artistic side, each house has to produce a "Bish-Capades" routine on the Friday afternoon and a skit on the Sunday evening. And to top it all off, there are sleigh rides, a dance, a movie, a banquet and a ski day. What a long way we have come in the last thirty years!

Every carnival has had a theme, and this year's theme was one of the best: The Wizard of Oz. We saw the most unlikely Dorotheas, the strangest Tin Men, Scarecrows and Lions, and it was always a delight to see who would be cast as the Wicked Witch of the West!

The tremendous organization of this year's committee, headed by Stephanie Jessop and guided by Mr. Jeff Bray, provided the whole school with one of the best carnivals ever. Events ran smoothly and the weather, so carefully arranged by the committee, was superb. It was not simply a week-end to blow out the cobwebs of a Canadian winter; it was a time to celebrate the great things about our climate. It was a week-end to remember.

CHINESE NEW YEAR AT BCS

On January 22nd, 1993, BCS students, regardless of their own origin, celebrated Chinese New Year, as the Year of the Monkey gave way to the Year of the Rooster.

The Chapel was decorated with Chinese symbols and the horoscope was posted all around the school for our information. On the Thursday night, a bus was chartered, and some forty students and six teachers went to the King Chow Restaurant for the all-you-can-eat buffet. Most impressive was the Friday Chapel service when five Chinese students stood before the school and read about the culture of their homeland. As they finished, our Head Prefect, Sung-Po (Andy) Chou from Taiwan, started to sing at the back of the chapel, and he was joined by another Chinese student, and then another. They moved toward the front of the chapel, and as they moved, more and more Chinese students joined them until twenty-five of them stood before us singing a flowing song to no accompaniment. It was very moving.

It was a week of awareness for the rest of us. Many of us have come to BCS from an English or French-based western culture. It is hard for us to imagine the challenge our Chinese friends meet and overcome every day as they learn a whole new culture and two new languages.

The Chinese students of BCS sing their New Year's song, led by Head Prefect Sung-Po (Andy) Chou on the extreme right.

AGORA The Debating Society

The New Year brings debating and public speaking, since most competitions take place between February and April. Two senior debating teams – Kedrin Simms and Krystyna Kouri, Matthieu Moss and Nathalie Poirier – went to Hudson High in early February. The style was cross-examination, and the prepared topic was legalized gambling. Krystyna placed fifth as an individual speaker, and she and Kedrin placed sixth as a team. They hope to do well in the Provincials on March 5th, when the prepared topic will deal with the United Nations.

Kedrin is also active in public speaking and she represented BCS at the QAIS Public Speaking Competition recently. Her topic was “Violence in the Media” and her presentation brought compliments from one judge in particular – Louise Penney of the CBC!

Both Krystyna and Kedrin have been interested in debating for the last two years but our goal this year has been to broaden student interest. With the co-operation of Catherine Evans, debating is now part of the weekly English agenda in Form II. Two of the students, Emily Evans and Kristen Marosi, have now participated in three competitions. Two others, Stephanie Côté and Kebede Bekure, have been to one. This classroom activity and competition outside the school are great to see. Our students are learning to develop listening skills, thinking skills and confidence.

CREATIVE WRITERS GET PUBLISHED

The last term at BCS is always exciting for the English Department. This is when we hear the results of the various contests we have entered, and it is when Inscape is published.

As usual this year, the Jewish Public Library published First Fruits, an anthology of works by budding writers. BCS authors were very well represented; their works in English and French made up almost half of the publication. English teacher Daphne Nelson took a group of students into Montreal for the launching. At the ceremony an award was given for best poet, which went to Emily Evans who is in Form II.

In the Townshippers' Association annual essay contest, Form V student Dina Nelson won second prize. For her topic, Dina researched schooling in the Townships in the early part of this century.

A province-wide essay writing contest was sponsored this year by Tél  Direct and Pepsi Jeunesse. BCS won $500 for being a school with full participation. We haven't decided on how to spend the money, but it will certainly be on something for the students.

It was most gratifying for all those who had worked so hard on our literary magazine finally to receive published copies of Inscape. For the first time, the typesetting for the magazine was all done by the students using the desktop publishing program Quark XPress. The final product is the result of a remarkable blend of talents: writers, artists and computer “whizz-kids”. In total, almost a hundred students contributed in one way or another. A copy of the magazine was given to each student, but if you have not seen a copy, or would like to have extra copies, please get in touch with Catherine Evans at the school.

BCS SWIMMERS AT THE PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

On the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of April, twelve BCS swimmers went to Lachute, Qu bec, as part of the Eastern Townships Team in the Provincial School Swim Championships. The team placed third in the province, and our own swimmers came home with a total of eighteen medals.

BCS students representing the Townships were: in the Bantam Category, Daniel Glassman, Anne Kantardjieff (1 silver, 2 bronze), Kenra Parris (2 gold, 1 silver, 1 bronze); in the Junior/Midget Category, Brad Culmer, Desiree Parris (3 gold, 1 silver, 1 bronze), Nina von Albedyhl (1 gold, 1 silver); and in the Senior/Juvenile Category, Melissa Barsoski, Lisa Fulford (2 bronze), Elizabeth Jones (1 bronze), Phil Kantardjieff (1 bronze), Scott McGillivray and Mitch Younge.

Special recognition must go to the coaching sisters, Ms. Lynn Harding, and BCS Old Girl, Tracey Harding.

Provincial Medal Winners: Nina von Albedyhl, Anne Kantardjieff, Phil Kantardjieff, Kenra Parris, Lisa Fulford, Desiree Parris, Elizabeth Jones.

THIRD ANNUAL STOKER FESTIVAL

The 1993 Stoker Arts Festival provided a superb forum for our students to learn first hand the reality of "Ionhetie" (the spirit lives") through the excellent loan exhibition of Native art, so capably arranged by Alumnae, Sarah Ivory, Victoria Stewart and Carlotta Stoker.

Festivities started with an evening of Native songs and dances, led by three Mohawk guests, in which the BCS student body participated, and learned a lot about the culture of Native Canadians.

The Loan Exhibition contained more than fifty pieces of artwork representing some thirty Native artists. The paintings, drawings, sculptures and woven work were all outstanding examples of contemporary skill and craftsmanship. A special BCS thank you to Norman Knott, an Ojibway artist, who was present throughout the festival, greeting our students and answering their many questions. A special thank you also to Jeff Stewart and Chris Winkel of Form VI for their hours spent assembling the displays!

Member of the Stoker Festival organizing Committee, Victoria Stewart with Ojibway artist, Norman Knott standing beside one of his paintings.

The second artistic highlight of the festival was the third annual Independent Schools' Art Contest. This year, ten schools participated and more than 100 student works of art were on view. Among the prize-winners, our own Linda Chen was again outstanding, her lovely watercolours taking the "Best of Media" award, as well as being the talk of the show! "Honorable Mention" certificates went to BCS students John Doherty, Katie Gray, Sam Chen, Charles Marleau, Aaron Kozlowski, Cynthia Ross, Jerry Wu, Naoya Kawata, Marktin Su, Natanya Nerenberg, Emma Miller, Josie Chen, Tommy Sherratt, Michelle Geyer, and Lisa-Marie Fulford. Very well done, all of you!

A final and special thank you to Festival co-ordinator, Jocelyn Shaw, and her hardworking committee of Gill Côté, Rae Heenan, Ann Holland, Sarah Ivory, Jane Jelowicki, Lynne Kouri, Deanna Ross, Victoria Stewart, Carlotta Stoker, and Cliff Goodwin of the BCS Development Office.

(Once again, The TIE would like to thank Brendan Trower for this article, and to point out to our readers that the Stoker Festival would not be what it is if it were not for Bren's efforts, modest though he is about them! – Ed.)

Toute la gang at the Bilingual Gala Bilingue.

ARTISTIC AND LITERARY GALA BILINGUE

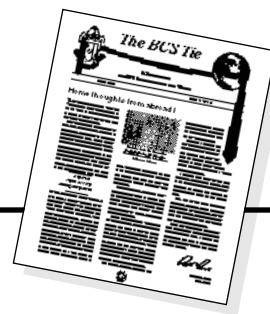

Pour la première fois à Bishop's College School, un gala artistique et littéraire bilingue a été présenté les 23 et 24 avril derniers. Plus de 50 élèves et 5 professeurs ont fait valoir leur talent dans différents domaines de la création artistique.

La danse, le théâtre, la poésie, le monologue et la chanson ont été à l'honneur et tous les intervenants à ce gala ont offert un spectacle de qualité dans les deux langues aux dires de notre public.

Il faut souligner le travail extraordinaire de Molly Carr, Robyn Stronach et Céline Michel qui ont assisté Maryse Forest dans cette production. Sans elles, il aurait été difficile d'atteindre un tel niveau de présentation.

Le bilinguisme à B.C.S. est une réalité et dans ce sens, le programme bilingue ne peut qu'encourager les élèves à exploiter leur langue seconde.

1993 ANNUAL CADET INSPECTION

Robert Ross welcomes Inspecting Officer Sam Abbott to Plantation.

On Friday, May 21st, 1993, Major Sam Abbott CD, Chief Instructor at Bishop's College School Cadet Corps #2 from 1952–1975, took the salute on what was an exceptional day.

After arriving at the Headmaster's residence with a police escort, Major Abbott inspected the Guard of Honour, commanded by Cadet Major Scott of Canada, The Army Cadet League and Cadet Services and Chairman of the Board, Mrs. Rae Heenan, helped Major Abbott make the following presentations:

- the Harold Anderson Scott Cup, for the platoon judged to be the best throughout the training year. This year it was won by Platoon 5 commanded by Sgt Myrna Charabi.

- the medal for the best male recruit of the year, awarded to Cadet Mark Healy.

- the medal for the best female recruit of the year, awarded to Tara Frankel.

- the award for the most efficient non-commissioned officer, awarded to RSM Tessa Jelowicki.

- the Desmond Stoker Memorial Cup, awarded to the demonstration team displaying the best spirit, initiative and work in preparation for the Annual Inspection, awarded to Precision Drill Team Sgt Adrian Cox.

- the Black Watch Plaque, awarded to the best instructor, irrespective of rank, was presented by Lt Col O'Connor to Cdt WO Samir Bedriss.

- the Hugh Ross Cleveland Medal, awarded to the cadet displaying the “most officer-like qualities”, won by Cadet Major Scott McGillivray.

- the Cadet Shield for appearance and corps initiative, won by the Cadet Band Lieutenants Iain Detchon and Amanda Jelowicki.

- the Royal Canadian Legion medal of excellence, awarded to Cdt Captain Aaron Patella.

- the Strathcona Trust Medal for the best cadet irrespective of rank, awarded to Ian Gurekian.

- the Lord Strathcona Plaque, pre-

The Inspection allowed many old boys and girls, parents, and friends of the School to witness first class drill, vaulting, and band displays. During the award-giving ceremony, representatives from the Black Watch (RHR) sented to Mr. Robert Ross by Captain Villemaire.

Special awards included the presentation of BCS tankards to Lt Col Dan O'Connor, who hands over command of The Black Watch on May 30th, and to Major Sam Abbott.

SPORT CLIMBING

BCS students place well in National Climbing Competition

On September 17th, 18th and 19th, three students from BCS competed in the National Youth Climbing Competition held at Strathcona-Tweedsmuir School near Calgary, Alberta. The competition was open, and climbers from across Canada were invited to compete.

After qualification, twenty senior climbers competed in two rounds of semi-final routes. The finals on Sunday gave the top twelve climbers an additional chance to demonstrate their skills. The final results showed Oliver Drake as the 6th rated climber in Canada, Greg Hill as 10th, and John Redpath as 15th. The climbers were accompanied by their coach, Mr. Ed Mortimer.

Imagine yourself perched 10m from the ground with your fingers clenched on a 1cm ledge, and your feet firmly (you hope) attached to a hold the thickness of a cardboard box. Then, you move hands and feet to the next holds, thinner than before. This is sport climbing. Each hold along the route is assigned a point value, depending upon the height. The score is determined by the maximum height obtained before the climber falls off. Each climber is belayed or held by a safety rope, so that climbing and falling are as safe as possible.

On this trip, our three competitors also were able to explore climbing outside the competition at the University of Calgary, and on some natural rock in the Calgary area.

Climbing is offered as a crease this fall. Fifteen students, males and females, are learning the techniques used in sport climbing. In addition to the climbing wall in the H. Weir Davis gymnasium, practice facilities also exist in the basement of Smith House, and on a small rock cliff on the BCS campus. Students are also offered the opportunity to climb on local rock cliffs such as the Barnston Pinnacle, and to learn rappelling from the top of School House.

Oliver Drake climbs to 6th place in Canada.

Pascal Gellrich on his way up.

Greg Hill hangs on for 10th place.

Luc Delaney and Pascal Gellrich (both Form VII) work their way up a rock face as their "friends" ensure their safety.

A message from the new President of the Alumni Association

B.C.S. Alumni Association

LENNOXVILLE, QUÉBEC

J1M 1Z8

Dear Alumni:

Here we are at the start of a new school year at BCS and as well, a new year of BCS Alumni Association activities.

We have already had our first meeting of the Board and as usual planned out the calendar of events. It looks to be a full year. The Annual General Meeting combined with the Montreal Fall Get Together will kick things off on October 14th. This will soon be followed by the "Thanks for Giving Ball" to be held on October 23rd.

As the new president of the Alumni Association, I want to concentrate on two main themes during my term:

- Alumni Association awareness both at the alumni level, and at the school level for future old boys and old girls.
- The Annual Giving Campaign. BCS is in a major financial crunch and needs all the support it can get. The future of our school, which has survived so many difficult times in its 157 year history, is simply not guaranteed. I cannot stress enough how much the school needs our help.

Finally, I would like to invite all alumni who would like to share their point of view on BCS to come and attend a meeting of the board held every month in Montreal.

On behalf of the BCS Alumni Association Board, I wish you and your families a great fall season, and I hope I will see you at all the BCS fall events coming up soon!

SAM ABBOTT HONOURED

On May 29th, there was a very special evening at BCS. Over one hundred guests visited the school to honour Sam Abbott, to feel the iron handshake, to see the wide smile and to look into the sharp eyes. Five Old Boys had agreed to say a few words about Sam, and it quickly became apparent that once one gets started, it is impossible to be brief when telling "Sam Abbott" stories. In fact, speeches that were to be limited to three minutes lasted over ten, although much of that time was given over to laughter. The stories were memorable, the scenes were recognizable, and Sam's one-liners were unforgettable:

"All right, I want everybody to line up in a square circle!"

*"Sir, you've given me too much change."
"That's okay, just don't let it happen again."*

*"Boyd, go in for LeGallais!"
(Boyd LeGallais, where are you?)*

*"Do you like Cadets?"
"Yes Sir..."
"You lie!"*

"Half of you over here, half of you over there, and the rest stay with me!"

Yes, the great communicator was revered, and as Tim Bradley (BCS '67) pointed out in his speech, incredible though it might seem, we understood, and somehow we all did "line up in a square circle!" Danny Lalonde (BCS '72), Doug Fox (BCS '65), Bart MacDougall (BCS '54) and H.D. "Ted" Sheppard (BCS '43) joined Tim to do the honours, and with material supplied by years and years of "Sam Abbott-isms", their speeches were terrific.

The one anomaly was that Ted Sheppard spoke – Ted Sheppard, who was at BCS when Sam was still a Stanstead boy. However, on that fateful afternoon of October 25th, 1938, in consequence for one crime or another, Ted was sentenced to serve as water boy for the visiting Stanstead football team. Visions of Sam, battered and bleeding, staggering out onto our centre field to kick yet another "rouge" to beat the home team are still vivid in Ted's mind, and these he described in a manner that Foster Brooks would envy.

Happily, Ted was the last to speak, and there was only one person in the room who could follow such an effort. Sam was brief and to the point. He was grateful for all the attention and particularly for the honour of the Sam and Jean Abbott Award, which he found all the more meaning-

THE SAM AND JEAN ABBOTT AWARD was started last spring to recognize Sam Abbott and his late wife, Jean.

This award will go to a returning student who would not otherwise be able to return to BCS. The recipient will be in good academic standing and a solid contributor to either the cadet corps or the sports program.

The following people have contributed a total of $10,485.68 to this award, and so we are already over half way to our goal. It is hoped that this is just the beginning – that more people will join in this honour.

THE GREAT BCS IDIOT'S DELIGHT QUIZ

Years ago, when I finally made it to Form VI, my father decided that it was time to stop avoiding me, and he took me into his English set. I remember several things about that. The only time I called him "Sir" everybody snickered, so thereafter, I never called him anything. At one point he admonished a bunch of us by name for doodling – wondering "what was wrong with us..." I muttered that it must be hereditary. Fortunately, or maybe selectively, he didn't hear me. I remember the "Idiot's Delight Quiz" aimed to see if we had done our prep, and it was something that I adopted when I started teaching. It's been several years now since I have set one, so this is as much for myself as it is for you!

The Eighth Annual BCS Hockey Tournament

The older Old Boys' hockey squad.

The Eighth Annual BCS Alumni hockey tournament took place over the frigid weekend of February 5th, 6th and 7th, 1993. The games were played at the Bishop's University Arena and the always freezing confines of the BCS rink. Our two fine BCS squads played host to the usual cast of old nemeses including Ashbury College, LCC, St. Andrew's College, Rothsay, Alexander Galt, Stanstead, Selwyn House, Westmount, and defending champion Marymount High School. Each team was guaranteed four games and Saturday night featured a friendly evening in the dining hall with sumptuous food and tall tales of days gone by.

The hockey was very competitive. In fact, one official remarked, "The hockey in this tournament gets better every year." As usual, there were mad scrambles in front of nets and much flailing away at loose pucks (particularly by the BCS boys). In the end, the boys from Marymount defended their title and hoisted the T.H.P. Molson Cup over their heads in victory. The trophy was presented by Major Sam Abbott.

The BCS teams displayed an uncanny ability to put the puck in the net this year. Unfortunately, this new found talent coincided with an almost mystical inability to keep opposing players away from our goaltenders. Our goalies, Mark Johnson (BCS '82) and Gilbert Landry (BCS '78), deserve full credit as they both absorbed more rubber than a Goodyear melting machine. The BCS players blamed their inability to back-check on the lethal combination of some formerly forbidden night spots in the greater metropolitan area of Lennoxville.

Special thanks from the organizing committee to Cliff Goodwin whose hard work and imagination helped to make the tournament a great success. Greg Boyd (BCS '81) once again donated his time as Tournament Chairman with the help of his two draftees, Louis Laflamme (BCS '81) and Bill Cunningham (BCS '81). Next year, the group is hoping to expand the tournament and make it the best one ever. Contact Greg or Cliff Goodwin at the Alumni Office if you want to take part.

Rugby

Saturday, May 29th, 1993, was an excellent morning for the Alumni vs the School rugby match. The damp, cool air was disturbed by screams of excitement, crunches of tackles and groans of exhaustion. The school team, bolstered by a few young staff members, gave the Old Boys the work out they so badly needed. It was an exciting and well-played game as the school nipped the Old Boys 31-19. Scoring for the Old Boys were Chris Ellis (BCS '93), Don Booth (BCS '89) and Jim Scheib (BCS '87). One of the most interesting features of the game was to see Alex, the youngest Hackett, playing against his brother, Guy (BCS '92), and his father, John.

Front row: Jameson Har (BCS '92), Naran Leseigneur (BCS '87), Andrew Dickieson, Steve Stearns (BCS '89), Nick Oldland (BCS '90); being a great day. Seven groups started teeing off at noon and we were all finished by 5:30.

While many struggled on the course, no one struggled in the clubhouse afterwards. Many beautiful prizes were awarded after a fine meal provided by the Golf Club. The steady Marc Bruneau (BCS '90) shot a 75 to win the low gross of the day for the second year in a row. The big surprise was the low net of 70 1/2 by Paddy Stoker (BCS '38) to edge out Lewis Evans (BCS '65), Felix Roberge (BCS '94) and Headmaster Robert Ross. KHC '63 REUNITES

A record twenty-five classmates met in Toronto on the weekend of May 14th–16th, 1993, for our thirtieth reunion. Old Girls came from as far away as England, California, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, British Columbia, the Maritimes and Quebec, as well as the host province of Ontario.

Reunion organizer, Mary (Cape) Usher-Jones.

Three formal events and many spontaneous get-togethers took place over a fast-paced, emotional three-day weekend. Each and every one of us brought back varying memories of our time at KHC and together we spun a web of feeling of sisterhood which will sustain us in the years to come.

There was much laughter as we reminisced and shared past and present experiences. At times we wondered whether our recollections were blurred by time; but it was felt universally that we were glad that we had spent that time together.

We dined in classmates' homes, toured art galleries, shopped and visited, but mainly caught up with one another and vowed to continue the friendships we had rekindled.

We left each other with immense gratitude for our shared experiences and the feelings of fellowship that were strengthened. Forty years on, we are thirty years stronger.

"Gilly" in 1933

Reprinted below is the letter that Miss Gillard wrote in the King's Hall Magazine in 1933 – 60 years ago.

Dear Girls;—

Although this letter is particularly addressed to those of you who are leaving school, and going out into the world, the practical advice it contains may be of use to you all during your months of leisure.

Be careful in your choice of friends. Always choose as your friends those who have the same standards as yourself. The world will judge you by your friends.

Never be afraid to show your colours. If you take a stand for what you know is right and decent, you will often strengthen someone who is wavering.

See that no one is ever less nice-minded for having known you.

Never be satisfied to lead an empty and self-indulgent life. I am going to quote to you the words that a former English Headmistress once used to her girls. "You can idle about all day, amusing yourself, and fill your mind with dress and gossip and spite:— perhaps you would feel there was no harm in such a life! No harm! I would rather hear that you were dead than that you had lived a life like that! On the other hand, every day of your life you can make the wings of your soul grow by an honest bit of self-denial, by an honest bit of work for others, by an honest bit of mental work. Every day you can be more worth knowing."

Keep your ideals high. You may never attain them, but you will be better for having tried. Browning has expressed this thought very beautifully in his "Andrea del Sarto", and I will close with a quotation from that poem:
"Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp,
Or what's a heaven for?"

Yours affectionately,
"Adelaide E. Gillard"

REUNIONS

VANCOUVER,

Vancouver Reunion Breaks New Ground

Who has ever heard of a reunion for one independent school being held in another independent school? Over four hundred Vancouver residents have, and not all of them were from BCS!

On April 29th, the BC-based BCS/KHC alumni participated in the first ever All Schools Reunion. While it was true that only twenty schools from the CAIS gathered in the York House School gym, we nevertheless dubbed it an "all schools" event, and it turned out to be an occasion of bizarre possibilities. Many of the participants wore the name tags of as many as three schools. When asked why, the answer could be anything from, "We moved around a lot..." to "I started off at Selwyn House, switched to BCS, got kicked out and finished at LCC!"

This multiple-loyalty situation was not confined to the alumni. Several Heads and Directors of Development secretly carried the badges of their former employers while singing the praises of their present school to their loyal Old Boys and Old Girls.

BCS is grateful to Hugh Notman (BCS '75) and to all the Vancouver people who did a splendid job of encouraging each other to attend. From our point of view, no school outnumbered BCS in attendance and no school outdid BCS in enthusiasm.

Brian MacFarlane (BCS '82), Leah Van Der Voort, and Chris Arnold-Foster (BCS '81).

CALGARY...

Ottawa alumni, please take note! This reunion took this shape because the Development Officers' Conference was held that weekend and hosted by Shawnigan Lake School. Next spring the conference will be hosted by Ashbury and Elmwood, and the All Schools Reunion will be held in Ottawa. It is our fervent hope that once again, the BCS faithful will outnumber the competition!

Johnson Yeh (BCS '95) with Deanna Ross.

Judi Webster (BCS '84) with her mother.

The Calgary Reunion

As Robert and Deanna Ross, Cliff Goodwin and Lewis Evans made their way across the parking lot at the Calgary Golf and Country Club, a tall, unmistakably Steve Newton-looking fellow came over to say hello. It was immediately apparent that this was indeed Steve Newton (BCS '65). There he stood, wearing an aged Old Boys' tie and an even older BCS blazer. From his pocket, he pulled a fistful of photographs, one of which is reprinted on this page. (These are all members of the Class of '65, and the caption for this photo is printed on page

This was the stuff of reunions; it brought the past and the present together, and that's what we were hoping to do. For the over two dozen people who showed up, the reunion had the same effect – they had the opportunity to reach out and touch the past and at the same time learn where their school is now.

We are indebted to Bob Christie (BCS '43) for arranging our use of the club, and to Peter Hyndman (BCS '59) for his most reliable efforts on our behalf in organizing the people to show up.

The Kenny-BCS Reunion in Ottawa

It was April 13th, and the Kennys gathered at the Ottawa Golf and Country Club to visit with their friends from BCS! It was former Head Prefect Matthew Kenny (BCS '79) who had done most of the arranging and made the jobs of the BCS touring company (Robert and Deanna Ross, Cliff Goodwin and Lewis Evans) so much easier. He and his wife, Gurt Morch (BCS '79) had persuaded his brother, former Head Prefect Michael Kenny (BCS '69) to come as well as their father, Jim Kenny (BCS '39). We all missed the Hon. Senator Sergeant-Major, but were delighted to see the two dozen or so people who did appear.

It was a small, but enthusiastic group, and next year we hope for a huge and enthusiastic group... Please read the Vancouver report on the previous page to learn why.

GRAHAM PATRIQUIN REMEMBERS...

FIRST TEAM HOCKEY — 1944

The school treasures a host of achievements in athletic performance; those of 1944's unbeaten, untied hockey team must surpass all of them. Half a century later, their memory stirs deep emotions.

The hockey season in 1944 was short. We hadn't yet installed an artificial ice plant, and late-coming winter deferred our first game until January 19. Happily, ice-making temperatures prevailed until mid-March, and Alf Rodell consistently prepared good sheets for the Prep, four minor teams in the Upper, general skating, First Team's daily practices and eight home games. He worked on the best surface yet. The Magazine reported proudly,

"Firstly, long-delayed repairs on the Memorial Rink were completed in September – a hopeful portent. Then, as soon as the rugby season was finished, some thirty enthusiasts carried and spread sand, tons of it, on the playing surface, and before freeze-up there was an excellent base for the first flooding. This hard work was done when there was no immediate prospect of ice. The whole thing was quite voluntary, and though team candidates were amongst the majority of workers, numerous others lent valuable aid in a manner that reminded one of the last year when we had a championship team."

Alf Rodell was the only school employee in the rink. His assistants were volunteers who cleared the ice because they were down-to-earth enthusiasts, conscripted New Kids or delinquents assigned by the Prefects to work off their sentences with scraper, broom or shovel. Somehow it worked well indeed, and we were the envy of all schools and organized teams in the Townships.

A successful hockey team, accordingly, enjoyed an uncommon measure of support from the School community. Seldom were spectators comfortably warm in the rink, but attendance was high at Wednesday and Saturday afternoon games, and the Tuesday night fixture, beginning at 8:15 after a full hour of supervised prep in the classrooms, enjoyed 100% attendance of the healthy. The school body appreciated a good performance, and was well-conditioned to judge its quality. Their approval of the 1944 team's production was loud, clear and enduring.

This team enjoyed the benefits of three significant resources: a dedicated coach, a far-sighted, unselfish captain and fourteen players determined to make it a triumphant season. Team statistics below give unbiased evidence of their resolution, and preclude further comment.

Gerald Wiggett's illustrious career as BCS hockey coach began with seasonal appointments in the mid-twenties. From the outset he enjoyed the confidence of his players, and in the thirty years of his tutelage, team cooperation never excelled that of 1944. Of all his remarkable teams, it may well have best embodied his ideology. He believed in teamwork and superior physical condition to win games; in self-controlled enjoyment of the game to win the respect of supporters, opponents, and all who saw them play. His dictum, "Stay on the ice!" was well remembered on a wartime postcard from Dan Doheny, ten years later, when the 1944 team was setting an unequalled record for clean hockey.

There was plenty of ill will in Townships hockey (in 1944) at the level of our team's play. Minor rioting outside the visitors' dressing room in one town, the applauded antics of an umbrella-bashing female at another, and bitter wrangles over refereeing at several rinks and in the district committee rooms, all threatened the health of the game. Happily, our coach, our team, and the entire school eschewed these evils and were glad to accept verbal and written devours from the spokesmen of our opponents.

Proof of their sincerity came in frequent appeals for return games.

Peter Aird's captaincy, second factor of the 1944 team's success, turned the scale long before its first practice. He recognized Johnnie Tyler's surpassing endowment and persuaded him to devote his talent to hockey rather than to skiing. John was the best and busiest skier at BCS in 1943, but he dazzled opponents and bystanders alike with his stick and puck, whenever he joined the mob at general skating. Aird determined that Tyler would be his right wingman, and began a long, difficult course of persuasion. The cogency of his pleas and the school's enthusiastic preparation for the coming season ultimately won Johnnie's consent and wholehearted support.

As a seasoned first teamer, Aird's prestige mounted with his prospect of an immediate call-up to the navy, his chosen branch of the armed services. (It came just before our final game.) A compassionate nature endeared him to all who had cause to be embarrassed, regretful or disappointed, and his leadership was a demanding inspiration. He personified it memorably in our second game against Sherbrooke High School, at Sherbrooke Arena.

BCS led, 3-2, in the third period, with minutes to go, and a strong SHS team was pressing. A partisan timekeeper was intolerably slow to start the clock whenever play was resumed after stoppage.

Gerry's incredulous "What the...?" followed the first delay. Less than a minute later, another face-off started play again, but not the clock, and precious seconds ticked away, uncounted by the idle pointer. All eyes focused upon it, and Gerry shook an accusing finger at the timer and the clock, adding his voice to the clangor of BCS supporters. Another stoppage of play, and Gerry called his team to the bench. Peter Aird laid a glove on his trembling arm, and quietly gave assurance.

"We'll fix it, Gerry." His team nodded assent. From the face-off, Bob McBoyle scooped the puck to Tyler, Johnnie fed a leading pass to Aird, who slipped his cover, feinted through the defencemen and drilled the clincher into a small opening on the goalie's glove side.

A bewildered timekeeper forgot to stop the clock.

A CHANGE OF DEFINITION

Please note that, from now on, Annual Giving will refer to gifts that go directly into the operating budget of the school. This is an Annual Fund that exists to ensure that the school balances its budget every year.

This begs the question: Why can't the school budget to break even in the first place?

The answer to this is simple and, perhaps, frustrating: Independent schools in North America keep their fees down by budgeting for a deficit, and make up that deficit through Annual Giving programs. Any school that wants to stay competitive must budget in the same way.

In fact, on average, the North American school makes up 14% of its budget through Annual Giving. This year, BCS must make up 5%.

This is an important change for our fundraising, and we very much hope that all our friends who have been building up scholarships or funding other special parts of the BCS community will continue to keep that as part of their support of their school.

MILESTONES

BIRTHS

Joan (Williams) Ballantyne (KHC '48) is insistent that it be known that she and her husband, C.C. (Tim) Ballantyne (BCS '48) are the proud grandparents of yet another beautiful child. Belle (Ballantyne) Corrigan (BCS '79) gave birth to Megan Joan on April 3rd, 1993. Megan is the third Ballantyne grandchild to be born in the last year, following cousins Heather, daughter to Timothy (BCS '79) and William, son to Evan, (BCS '78).

Tina (Pinck) Birmingham (BCS '79) and her husband, Keith, are thrilled to announce the birth of their son, Brandon James, on October 8, 1992. (For more exciting details, please see the Class Notes for 1979! Ed.)

Wayne and Bertie Ghans (BCS '73) had a girl, Sarah Anita, on May 18, 1993, weighing 7lbs.2oz.

Crick Glass (BCS '72) had a daughter, Sara Melissa Hanaford Glass on August 20, 1993. Taylor is very happy to have a sister.

Ian Graham (BCS '80) and his wife, Sharon, are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Georgina Beatrice, on May 27, 1993 in Toronto.

James Hibbard (BCS '77) had a boy in February '93.

Robert Marien (BCS '70) writes:

"Have just had our third child, Martina Caitlin, a sister for Ryan 71/2 and Meaghan 51/2."

Phil Provencher (BCS '78) and Sara Price (BCS '81) had a son, Jack, in May, 1993.

Avery (Mackay) Russell (BCS '85) writes:
"Had a son Dec. 2, 1992."

Bruce Bryant Scott (BCS '80) and his wife, Frances, had a daughter, Sophia Elizabeth, on April 6, 1993.

Kelly M. Smith (BCS '75) writes:

"Kelly and Lori's first child, Catherine Carley Frederick Smith, was born October 3, 1992."

Michael Stearns (BCS '82) and his wife, Karen, are delighted to announce the birth of their daughter, Katherine, April 21st, 1992.

William Stenason (BCS '80) and his wife had a daughter, Lauren Mary, on May 22, 1993.

WEDDINGS

Dunn – Laberge

On August 7th, 1993, John C. Dunn (BCS '84) married Anne-Marie Laberge. These BCS Alumni attended; from the left: Scott Hyndman (BCS '84), Andy Johnson (BCS '52), Stephanie Lynne Kouri (BCS '82), Peter Dunn (BCS '74), Andrew Setlakwe (BCS '83), Kurt Johnson (BCS '84), Richard Setlakwe (BCS '52), Mark Johnson (BCS '82), John Dunn and Anne Marie Laberge, Brett Halna du Fretay (BCS '84), Jennifer Winsor (BCS '83), and Robert Dunn (BCS '71). (Tim Price (BCS '75) was also there, but missed the photo op!

Todd Schurman (BCS '82) married Sharon Deighan on June 26, 1993 in Summerside, PEI.

Tony Ross (BCS '75) married Barbara Kminek on June 19, 1993.

DEATHS

Peter R. Eakins (BCS '45) passed away on November 29, 1992.

Mrs. H.V. Fellows (KHC '24) died in February 1993. Her three daughters attended KHC.

Michael H. Gordon (BCS '56).

Mrs. H.A. Gregory (KHC '16) died in October 1992.

Joe Haines (BCS '66) died in Toronto on March 31, 1993 at 43 years of age. He had been suffering from cancer. He is survived by two daughters and a son, all living in the Toronto area.

Cathy Bowie Jackson (BCS '69) passed away in February 1993.

Anna A. Macdonald, music teacher at KHC, died peacefully at Bestview Nursing Home on Thursday, February 18th, 1993.

George L. Newsome (BCS '69).

Margot A. Price writes:

"My husband, R. Keith Price died on August 31, 1992. Keith died at home after a three year illness with cancer."

Beej Punnett (KHC '64) writes:

"My sister, Roz (Punnett) Wilkinson died from cancer in August 1991. Her husband, John, lives in Barbados as does her married daughter. Her married son is in Toronto and her unmarried daughter is attending Bishop's University."

Edward Charles Saba (BCS '61).

Ronald E. Scott (BCS '55).

Mrs. P.A. (Jackes) Tryon (KHC '43), peacefully on Wednesday, June 26, 1991, aged 66 years.

CLASS NEWS

1925

R. Guy C. Smith writes:

"Spent life, after leaving RMC in 1929, in our Foreign Service, Buenos Aires, NY, Rome, London, Paris, Washington, Trinidad, Tokyo. Retired in 1970 to Brockville, ON."

Gus Millar writes:

"Spend at least six months of the year in Florida where our home is on a golf course, which, by the way, has not improved my game any. Joan (née Cumming, KHC '35), whom I married fifty-five years ago, up and fractured her right hip last year which more or less put her out of commission. However, she is back on the golf course and loving it. Daughter Joanne (KHC '58) is now living in King with three horses, three dogs and a dozen cats – says it's a great life. Son Hugh is working hard at trying to control the pipe business, with some success.

"As a family, we are doing very well, possibly due to our background at BCS."

1932

Micheal L'Abbe Aylwin describes himself as a humorist. In fact, he is a writer who in his senior citizen years is being published more and more. His work has been printed frequently in the Gazette, most notably his story about the time he "KO'ed" Jack Dempsey. With novels and screen plays in the works, there's no knowing what he will come up with next!

1933 and 1934

David Rankin (BCS '33) and Ken Paton (BCS '34) dropped in to visit their old school with their wives in the middle of the summer. They found Lewis Evans (BCS '65) who was looking for a break, and he gave them a tour of the school. They admitted that they had been "threatening to do this for about five years" and as they left to lunch at Andrew's Restaurant (named after Andrew Paton, Ken's grandfather) in the renovated Paton Mill in Sherbrooke. Having found David Rankin's name on the Head Prefect's board in Centre Hall at BCS, they agreed that it had been a "really worthwhile visit."

Morna MacLean was good enough to send us this picture with the caption: "Forty years on... and on..."

Here she is sitting with the Ladouceur twins, their brother, Nicolas and their mother, Chris – who is the daughter of Josette (Cochand) Chedel (KHC '59).

Morna is teaching her three great-grandchildren the "Tuskie Elephant Game"!

Phoebe Anne (Freeman) Magee writes:

"I've almost become a Maritimer after living in St. Andrew's for twenty-five years. Life here is very different from that in Montreal, but I have grown to love it and wouldn't trade it for anywhere else; besides, both of my daughters, Willa and Margot (KHC '63 and '67) live in the Maritimes too.

"Life is never dull here, we are a busy resort in summer when I see lots of old friends, and in winter we are a cosy community of all ages. I still paint, and sell a lot of my watercolours. I travel (bumped into two KHC contemporaries whom I hadn't seen for years in Prague just over a year ago). I continue to be active in local and provincial organizations, and generally manage to keep in touch with old KHC friends.

"In 1989 I was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society for the Arts, and I recently was awarded the Commemorative Medal for the 125th Anniversary of the Confederation of Canada. Currently, I serve as Chairman of the County Hospice; it must be that all of Gilly's exhortations were not lost on me!

"Always glad to see any Old Girls passing through St. Andrews..."

1940

Joan (Stanger) Lewis writes:

"I have lived alone in South Portland, Maine, for a number of years, enjoying my two grandchildren. Still go back to Lake Memphremagog to visit my 95-year-old mother.

"My activities include: work at the Portland Museum of Art, my garden, walking the beach and birding.

Barbara Chambers writes:

"Journeyed in June 1992 to Peterborough, ON, to the marriage of my niece, Tanya Lynn Chambers. Took a roundabout route home and visited with Elizabeth (Bradshaw) Large (KHC '48) in Oakville, ON. Was impressed with my first visit to Niagara Falls. Elizabeth's (Ibby's) eldest daughter, Wendy Elizabeth (Beth) McCracken is my godchild."

Noel Goodridge writes:

"I visited the school in September for the first time since 1948. Fellow Newfoundlanders Adam Butler and Catherine Fitzgerald (both in Form VII) gave a lovely tour of the School. Spent a pleasant afternoon with Graham and Jessica Patriquin."

(Noel Goodridge is now the Chief Justice of Newfoundland. His visit to the school with his wife, Isobel, was a special event and should have been reported in the winter Bulletin. There was a wonderful moment when Noel and Isobel arrived at the Patriquins' for a visit. The old schoolmaster towered above his old student by virtue of being on the porch; he held out his hand and, remembering yet another of his personal nicknames, said, "Hello, Benny..."

"Hello, Sir," replied the Chief Justice.)

1951

Willa (Price) Mundell writes:

"Keeping busy chairing the San Francisco Landscape Garden Show. Looking forward to time in Tadoussac this summer."

Jean (Lindsey) Titus writes:

"My husband and I are retired and run a small Bed and Breakfast in Marblehead, MA. Our three children are married and living nearby so we can enjoy our two grandchildren. Winters, we travel back and forth to Florida. I am on the Board of Directors for the Marblehead Chamber of Commerce and am also involved with our local Council on Aging. I don't know how I ever found time to work! We attended our 1st Elder Hostel and loved it – like being back at KHC again."

1952

Vic Rogers showed up at the Calgary Reunion on May 4th, and handed Lewis Evans a newspaper clipping with the heading, "Rogers Proves He Can Bounce Back". He wanted the article to get to Graham Patriquin, but it bears repeating.

It was a story by Barry Nelson of the Calgary Herald, and it told of how Vic Rogers had lost his entire company in the crash of '87, of how he had sought backing from ten supporters in order to regain his ASE seat, and of how he got back in business as Rogers & Partners Securities Inc.

Now the company sells "equities at a record pace and (earns) about half its income from corporate underwritings, sponsorship letters, fairness opinions and other services." The company serves 3,000 clients, sells $60 million worth of equities every year, and earns $100,000 every month from fees and commissions.

Ward Hanson and Graeme Ross in about 1958 – and Gordie Glass in the background.

Susan C. Walsh writes:

"I'm President of the Ladies' Branch of the Royal Montreal Golf Club and also of the Ladies Committee Montreal Badminton and Squash Club. Enjoying golfing, painting, gardening, badminton and good friends."

1954

Jim Cantlie writes:

"Retired from the Canadian Forces in December '92 after 37+ years of service. Currently Director of Canadian Forces Employment Equity Project."

1959

Peter H.C. Mitchell whom many of us will remember for his unforgettable performance as Ruth in the 1957 production of The Pirates of Penzance, has been teaching at Howard S. Billings High School for over twenty years. He teaches math, science, history, accounting and taxation, criminal and civil law, and he is chairman of Academic Awards. He coaches bantam hockey, sits on the grad committee and house system committee (a system he instigated from the BCS model), and he chairs the retirement committee. Last year, four months after he returned to work from major surgery, he organized the 25th anniversary celebrations, and brought 1,200 alumni back to the School. In his spare time (!) he is president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers Credit Union, president and treasurer of the Bark Lake Protective Association (an environmental watchdog organization), treasurer of the Bark Lake Home Owners Association, treasurer of the Billings staff hockey team, and he still plays! He has five children between the ages of 18 and 27!

Douglas G. Langley writes:

"As one of the Founders of Kingsway College School (KCS), I am please to note we are embarking on our 1st Fundraising Campaign ($1 million). Our 13 year old son is in grade 7 at KCS, Mom is Registrar and Dad is Chairman of the Board of Governors.

"To pay for some of this, Dad works for a living as President of Environment Protection Laboratories Inc. in Toronto. I also find time to Chair the International Environmental Testing Association and serve as CEO of International Joint Venture.

"Shirray and I are celebrating twenty-five years of marriage with a vacation to Tuscany and Provence in June! Best wishes to all."

Diana Stewart writes:

"In the last seven years I've been involved in individual growth and development programs: Volunteer hospice community visiting in homes, supporting Project Literacy with great interest, gathering information to help street kids find suitable housing and medical care.

"My daughter, Alexandra, is studying at the University of Victoria in BC; I've been recovering from severe whiplash due to a minor car accident three years ago."

Gillian (Angus) Côté writes:

"Back as a parent at BCS with my last child, Stephanie having started in Form II and loving it! I am involved in school projects, painting and doing crafts at the old folks home. I'm also working hard on my tennis."

John L. Ferris talks to Colin McLernon in the late fifties.

Callie Archer-Bell writes:

"I'm a Senior Policy Analyst in the Office of the Employment Equity Commissioner in Toronto, working for the Ontario Government. I have enjoyed helping Canada raise money for projects which benefit underprivileged Latin-American children. Cheers!"

1964

Elizabeth (Stikeman) Rose writes:

"I had no time for Christmas cards, so I decided to connect through this medium. Another career change – I am AVP Environmental Affairs for Northern Telecom Limited. Boys both at US Universities. See you in 1994!"

Ranald Quail, President, and the Board of Directors of Canadian Commercial Corporation (CCC), are pleased to announce the appointment of Douglas Patriquin (BCS '64) as Executive Vice-President and Chief Operating Officer of CCC. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Patriquin held senior positions in the energy, economics and finance fields with the federal government and the province of Saskatchewan.

Douglas Patriquin

He holds degrees in Economics from Queen's University, the University of Toronto and the London School of Economics, and attended the Harvard Business School.

Based in Ottawa, CCC is a federal Crown corporation that assists Canadian exporters as prime contractor in the sale of goods and services to foreign governments and international agencies. Last year, Canadian firms received orders worth $781 million through CCC, a fifteen per cent gain over the previous year.

Steve Newton rounds the net past Ken Dyer in about 1964. (In the background can be seen Lewis Evans, Hugh Doheny and Steve's mother.)

Francine Cook writes:

"My husband, Bill, has been retired for several years now and we are enjoying the easy life! However, our two sons, Christopher (19) and Burke (16) keep us on our toes!"

Kathy Winsor Milne writes from Seattle:

"Life is busy here – Lauren, now 5 1/2 is in kindergarten (can't believe it!) and I'm getting back into the work force ... fun!"

Victoria Buchanan Thorburn writes:

"Clare is three and we are enjoying living in Edinburgh. We have a consultancy specializing in business development and right now Andrew is in Prague on assignment to the Ministry of Industry and Trade. Prague is spectacular and the three of us will spend New Year's there. In the process of acquiring a derelict mill which hopefully one day will be habitable. Anyone coming this way, especially avid golfers, always welcome."

Kathy Shaw writes:

"I changed jobs from legislature reporter for CBC-TV in Charlottetown to news producer in January 1992. This year I was faced with my most important challenge yet as producer of our 1993 Election Night program. It came off well – I'm still flying from the adrenalin!"

"My husband Derek and I have two lovely children, Neil (12) and Elizabeth (9).

"Best wishes to Diane Leclair and all my classmates!"

1971

Anne (MacCulloch) Johnson writes:

"Still working for Air Canada in passenger service at the Halifax Airport (Passing through? Look me up!) though presently on leave with our third baby, Christopher, born December 6th, 1992. A brother for Elizabeth (6) and Nicholas (4)."

1972

Danny Lalonde writes:

"Got married August 21st, 1992, in Hudson, Quebec, to Michelle Lanctôt, from Sherbrooke (who used to babysit Jacques Leblanc '71!). With my office in Toronto, and home in Montreal, there's never a dull moment!"

Playwrights' Workshop Montreal

30th Anniversary Gala

Scott Prichard (BCS '74), who works at the Montreal Gazette and is President of Playwright's Workshop Montreal, has joined up with Allan Federer (BCS '74), General Manager of Hotel du Parc, to co-chair the 30th Anniversary Gala to be held in the newly renovated Monument-National Theatre on November 8th, 1993.

PWM is the oldest English theatre organization in Montreal and this gala will be the opening event of a month-long festival of English language culture called Celebrations '93.

The soirée will consist of short scenes of the best plays developed by PWM during the past thirty years, hosted by local and national celebrities. There will be comedians, musicians and a Gala reception will follow the show.

Sitting on the Advisory Board for the Gala are Sarah Ivory (BCS '79), Tony Ross (BCS '75), Tim Price (BCS '75), Guthrie Stewart (BCS '73) and Gary Sheppard (BCS '72). They all hope to see you there, so don't hesitate to call Scott at (514) 987-2314 for more information.

CLASS NEWS

1974

In December, 1992, after fifteen successful years at Southam BCI, Graham Hallward has become a director and volunteer fundraiser with the Wildlife Preservation Trust. He is the treasurer for this organization which funds small projects to save endangered species.

Fergus Worthington-Wilmer writes:

"Transferred from Hong Kong to Paris to manage the Hutchison Telecom business in France. Phillip (BCS '74) has been working for the UN and has been in Morocco, Cambodia, Angola and is now in Somalia. Still both unmarried much to our mother's dismay."

1975

Carrie McDougall writes:

"Still Assistant Director in the Alumni Office at Harvard University – completed Master's Degree in Intercultural Relations and International Studies last Fall. Led a fantastic trip in January for the Alumni Office to Antarctica – sold my house in April – moved up the street to a place with plenty of room for classmates and friends to visit! Caught up with Tim Price, Tony Ross (both BCS '75) and Tony's new wife, Barbara, in Montreal this summer – leading trip for Elder Hostel in the fall to Europe for a few weeks – would love to hear from other classmates."

1977

Diana Lee Boyd-McMahon writes from Gormley, Ont.:

"We've moved to the country and we're loving it! Family life is wonderful – our 7 1/2 month old daughter, Victoria, is healthy and happy. If anyone is ever in the area for the polo matches give us a call – visitors are always welcome."

Jono Howson writes:

"I moved to England in 1985 to work for a Lloyd's Broker, Willis, Faber and Dumas. In 1987 I married Polly Sellan of Christchurch, New Zealand, who is the Health and Beauty Editor of Vogue Magazine here in London. In 1989, I left the city to start two new companies with a colleague from Willis. One company is a toy import and distribution company and the other is a company specializing in the manufacture of liferafts.

"Polly and I spend most weekends at our flat at Cowes, Isle of Wight, where we actively race our "Etchell's 22" keelboat Phoenix. I've also recently started another company with another Canadian specializing in sourcing and shipping English antiques and design materials for the Canadian market."

1979

Evan Ballantyne, who is a Financial Analyst with Dunn & Bradstreet in New York, has been promoted and will move to Princeton, NJ, at the end of the year. (Evan, be sure to send your change of address!)

Tina (Pinck) Birmingham wrote to say that she and her husband, Keith, are thrilled to announce the birth of their son, Brandon James, on October 8, 1992 at 20:20 at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal, weighing 7lbs. 15oz.

Tina mentioned that Laurie Boyd (BCS '79) drove her to the hospital in the wee hours of the morning and that they had to stop for gas!

She also congratulates Eric Boyd (BCS '79) who is engaged to Kim Bellis. Cheers!

Tina's wedding took place on Sept. 14, 1991, and Mr. Eric Detchon gave the toast to the bride; the maid of honour was Laurie Boyd, along with Sarah Stairs (BCS '79) and Nancy (Mair) Gardiner (BCS '79) who were her bridesmaids. Alison (Stuchbery) Lannan (BCS '79) was the appointed reader. Kathy McGee (BCS '78) and Diana (Boyd) McMahon (BCS '77) were also Gillard House attendees!

Tina Pinck and Keith Birmingham.

THE BCS CLASS OF '84 10TH YEAR REUNION

If you left Form VII in 1984
or Form VI in 1983,
this is your reunion year

MAY 27TH, 28TH
AND 29TH, 1994

Come and see old friends and enjoy a full weekend of activities

For more information, call:

John C. Dunn (514) 822-8122
Kurt Johnson (514) 879-1212

P.S. The class of 1979 who will celebrate their 15th reunion have challenged us to try to get more people out to our reunion than they get to theirs... Let's show these old folks how to party!

P.P.S. We've put this in small print so that the Class of '79 won't be able to read it!

1985

Avery (Mackay) Russell writes:

"Got married in June '91. Had a son Dec. 2, 1992. Love Boston. Keep in touch with Nathalie Bissonnette (BCS '85) and Jane Marten (BCS '84) who is living in Dakar. I'd like to say 'hi' to Lynn Saykaly who I haven't heard from in years!"

After leaving BCS in 1984, Osnat Shemesh received her BA in Psychology from the University of Tel Aviv, and went on to business in Montreal in 1989-90.

Former Headmaster David Cruickshank, Osnat Shemesh (BCS '85) with former houseparents, BCS Chaplin, Rev. Trish Peacock and Assistant Head, Charles Peacock.

In 1990 she was drafted into the Israel Defence Force Spokesman Unit during the war, where she produced a leaflet about war and the IDF Journal which was sent abroad every four months. In 1991, she left the army and joined a high tech company in marketing.

Currently she is working at Israel's Diamond Exchange Museum as a guide for "Treasures of the Jewels from the Russian Tsars"!

"Classmates in Israel, give me a call!"

1986

Kevin John Brown writes:

"In July '93 I will become a member of the "Van Doos", and am posted to CFB Valcartier, with the 3^e Bataillon, Royal 22^e Regiment. I am currently an "L-T" (Lieutenant), and hold the position of Anti-Armour Platoon Commander. I hope to have this position when we deploy to Bosnia in October '93.

"I will be closer to BCS when my wife and I move to Quebec City from Victoria. I'm hoping finally to be able to attend an Old Boys' soccer game this Fall. No kids planned for the near future as Jacki and I have yet to spend more than six weeks in a row together.

"All the best."

1987

Andrew MacLachlan writes:

"I have more hair than Turpin and am skinnier than Becker! Graduated in May of '92 from Acadia University with an Honours BA in History.

"Have spent the past year recovering from my thesis and teaching English in Slovakia (formerly a part of Czechoslovakia). Have been privileged to witness first hand the birth of a new nation, and the changes in an Eastern European country. Will be writing my MA this year at Royal Military College of Canada. Time to get my academic rear in gear!

"Hello all 'Schmidt' Housers!"

Andy MacLachlan at the Budapest Castle in March, 1993.

Greg Stevenson, who last year was disappointed with his team's poor placing in the men's coxless four event at the Olympics, has not given up. After spending much of the winter working out in our new Weider weight room, he went west to practice with the Canadian team and in August, found himself in Roudnice, Czech Republic, rowing again for Canada in the world championships. This time, the men's coxless fours came fourth, missing the bronze by only two seconds. At this rate, he should get a medal next time round.

Geoffrey Belisle writes:

"After completing my degree in Political Science from Queen's, I embarked upon a trip to Australia, Southeast Asia and Nepal. While in Australia I worked on a sheep station in the Outback and spent a week with Tim Brown (BCS '87) in Surfer's Paradise. Tim gave me a tour of 'The Southport School' and it is fantastic... surfing as an official school sport! I also met up with BCS Old Girl and Queen's friend Claire Morowski (BCS '86) in the Islands of Thailand.

"Upon my return, I found employment at Wood Gundy in Toronto. My biggest news is that I am engaged! I am presently living with my fiancé Joan Schatz (Queen's '91) and I would love to hear from some old friends.

"Cheers Mates!"

Erin Tansey graduated from Huron College in May with an honours degree in Political Science and French. She spent the summer teaching English in Seoul, Korea, with Lydia Antippas (BCS '89). She will be working in France for three or four months this year and hopes to meet up with Alex Lalonde (BCS '88) in Nice.

1989

Laura Edbrooke writes:

"I just arrived from Argentina. We finally sold our farm, just in time before the floods. I'm leaving for central Mexico in three weeks. I plan to live there for a year, then God knows. Still working on my jewellery; I might open some sort of business down there. Send my love to anyone I still know there, especially Mr. Brass!"

Julie Ferguson dropped in on her way back to finish her last year at UNB. She is now the Atlantic Regional Manager of AIESEC (Association International des Etudiants en Science Economique at Commercial). In this position she is currently organizing a conference for about eighty people to be held in Halifax this October. Next year, she thinks she will go either on an AIESEC traineeship or possibly study in England.

Keith Olivella writes:

"I had a great summer ('92), first tree planting, then one month in Africa and then back on the farm for the remainder. Jeff Foreman (BCS '88), Jeff Bishop (BCS '89) and I are all having a good time at Acadia, but I'll be glad to graduate with a BA in Economics this Spring. Give me a call Siggins!"

Richard Waddington writes:

"Graduated from McGill in June '92 with BA Honours in Economic Geography. Have gone on to study for a Masters at Cambridge University. Been offered a banking job in London to start September '94. Hope to squeeze in six months travel in South America before I start. If in the UK, give me call!"

1990

Elizabeth Gallery is in second year University of Western majoring in Geography.

Julie Sparling writes:

"I am currently finishing up my second year at Trent University in a French Honours Program. This last year I was accepted into the Trent-Queen's Concurrent Education program and have been actively involved in two of Trent's Intramural hockey teams. (Some things never change!) I am really excited about my job at Banff Springs Hotel this upcoming summer!

"Congratulations to the Marlins on their new baby! I'd love to hear from old friends, especially Taline, Marianne, Maria, the Perriers, and anybody else!"

David Groom wrote to Director of Admissions, Judith Detchon, to say that he has auditioned for a part in the Knowlton amateur production of Jesus Christ Superstar. The next thing he knew, he was singing the title role, and will play Jesus on October 23rd, 24th, 26th, 28th and on November 6th. David went on to mention that Joey Shanahan (BCS '93) is the keyboard player in the band.

Michael Zaicek writes:

"I'm a second year student at Queensland University studying American History, playing rugby for the University UZ1 side.

"Having a great time at Uni, missing all my good friends in Canada and currently planning a year's study in North America in 1995."

Erin Moran, who is majoring in biology, and playing for Varsity Squash team and rowing for the Novice Rowing team, sent in the accompanying picture with this update on the Gillard House crew at Western.

Julia Ralph – majoring in sociology and in the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

News from Former Teachers

John McClintock and his wife, Nancy, are the proud parents of their first baby, Nathalie Carmen Vivian, born on December 17. John has been teaching senior high mathematics and is currently the department head at West Island College in Calgary. He is also the coach of senior football at Henry Wiseman Secondary School and led his team to victory in the provincial championships.

Alexis Troubetzkoy writes:
“After thirty-two years in schools, I’ve retired from education and have taken on a most interesting post with the Tolstoy Foundation in New York City. Founded in 1939 the Foundation’s initial purpose was to resettle Russian refugees and help and assist with these emigrés. Over the decades, the refugee work has expanded to include people from all around the world and today we are one of eight non-profit organizations in the USA who are contracted by the State Department to attend to this work.

“In addition to refugees, we also run old age homes in the US, Europe and South America, and operate cultural centres in Nyack, New York, Munich and Rome. Recently the Board has determined to expand its activities in Russia, where heretofore we have merely rendered material assistance to indigent elderly in St. Petersburg and Moscow. Next month I am going over to seek out possibilities and propose a plan of action; on July 1, I become Executive Director of the organization. It is most exciting, stimulating and utterly different from anything I have done in education.

“My BCS years stand out vividly as some of the finest and most satisfying in my life and I carry the happiest of memories of the place.”
